CAUSE

On October 9, 2009, the Court modified Young's conditions of supervised release to include 30 days in a Residential Re-entry Center (RRC). On December 15, 2009, the offender was placed at the Brooklyn RRC to commence his thirty (30) day term. Young was discharged on December 31, 2009, after suffering numerous injuries incurred during an automobile accident that prevented his immediate return to the center.

SUMMARY OF COMPLIANCE WITH SUPERVISION CONDITIONS

On November 10, 2005, Joshua Young was sentenced by Your Honor to one (1) month imprisonment, followed by a three (3) year term of supervised release after pleading guilty to Conspiracy to Commit Bank Fraud 18 U.S.C. 1349, a Class B Felony. In addition, the Court ordered the special conditions of five (5) months in a community confinement center, full financial disclosure, no new credit charges without the approval of the probation officer, alcohol aftercare treatment, $238,559.87 restitution, and a $100 special assessment. Young commenced his three (3) year term of supervised release on February 18, 2006, in the Eastern District of New York.

Name of Offender: Joshua Young Docket Number: 04-CR-633-01

It is worthy to note that Young's supervision is scheduled to expire on February 17, 2010. Based on his inability to return to the center, on January 21, 2009, Young signed a Waiver of Hearing to Modify Conditions of Supervised Release (Probation Form 49). The extension would give Young the opportunity to complete the remaining balance of his placement at the residential re-entry center.

At this time we respectfully request that Your Honor extend Young's supervision for a period of six (6) months. We note that the Court still maintains the authority to vacate the remaining balance of the special condition and allow the Young's supervision to expire naturally.

Respectfully submitted,

by
